... Sorry about that :)

So... Do FB
Ads really suck for advertisers?

Facebook Ads don't suck.
They can be great for your business but...

It's tough to get them right.

Facebook vs. Google

Different Channels. Different approaches.

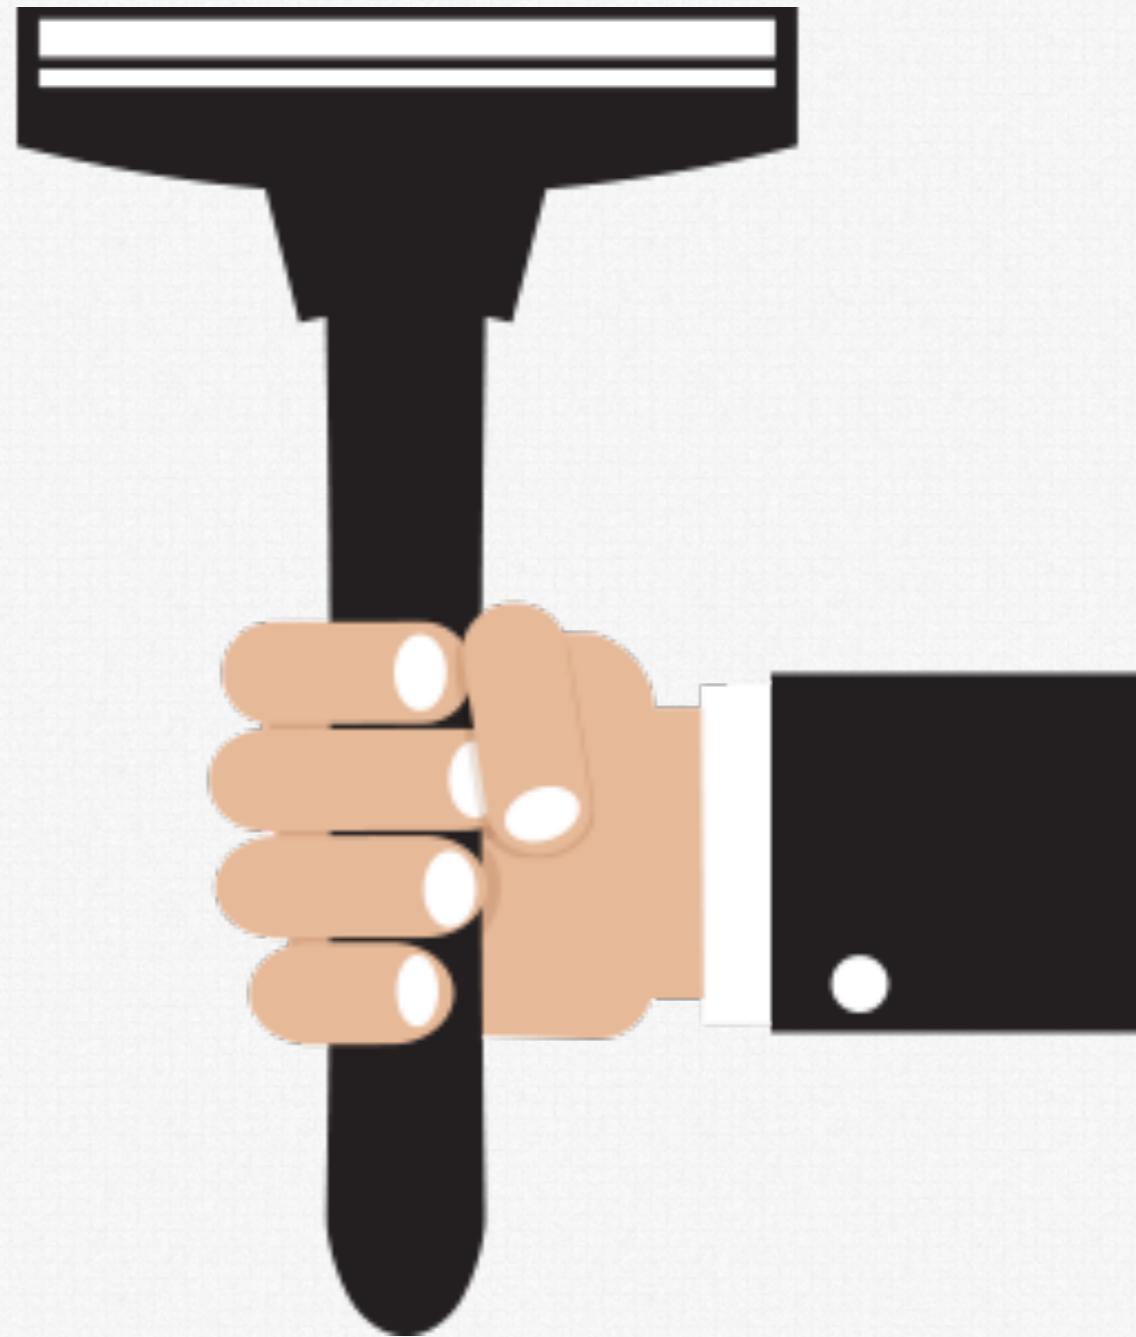

- ⌚ Google is great for demand fulfillment: Search
-> Buy
- ⌚ Facebook is great for demand generation:
Discovery
- ⌚ Complex to get it right. Lower conversion rate. Bigger opportunity.
- ⌚ Google's lifecycle: SetUp, Test, Fine-tune,
Forget
- ⌚ Facebook's lifecycle: SetUp, Test, Fine-tune,
Repeat... You constantly need to test different ad designs and audiences to target

Facebook vs. Google

Why is Facebook the bigger opportunity?

- ⌚ Imagine you've just invented a new, revolutionary razor and want to market it.
- ⌚ Most men use and buy razors frequently. It's a huge market but...
- ⌚ How many of them actually search Google for "shaving" or "razor" before buying?
- ⌚ Not many, I'd guess! The addressable market on Google would be incredibly small!
- ⌚ Alternately, with Facebook you can target any man in the world older than 14...
THAT'S A HUGE OPPORTUNITY!

Address the elephant

Direct the driver, Motivate the elephant

It's not about the features...

- ⌚ Our rational self is like a tiny man riding an elephant
- ⌚ The man is sure he's in control but when he and the elephant disagree on which way to go... guess in which direction they'll go?
- ⌚ The elephant is our emotional side, our subconscious. If he can avoid it, he doesn't like changing his habits (e.g.: learning how to use new products, shopping on a new website, etc.).
- ⌚ Your design should address both the man and the elephant. Don't limit yourself to product features. Motivate the elephant with images and copy that engage them emotionally and highlight product benefits.

The Ad's Targeting

Targeting Facebook Ads

📍 Country

Huge price & performance differences. Never mix in same AdSet.

📍 Custom Audiences

Best targeting right now! Require a big email list. Great for b2b startups.

📍 Interests

Used to be the best option. Less effective due to spam & like buying. Still relevant.

Targeting Facebook Ads

⌚ Gender

Depending on the market, targeting just men or women can make a huge difference.

⌚ Behaviors

Many interesting options. Purchase behaviors is remarkably useful for eCommerce (US Only)

⌚ Connections

Effective depending on the quality of your page's fans. Good for generating likes and engagement. Not really for b2b.

How do we find which interests to target?

Bidding for Ads

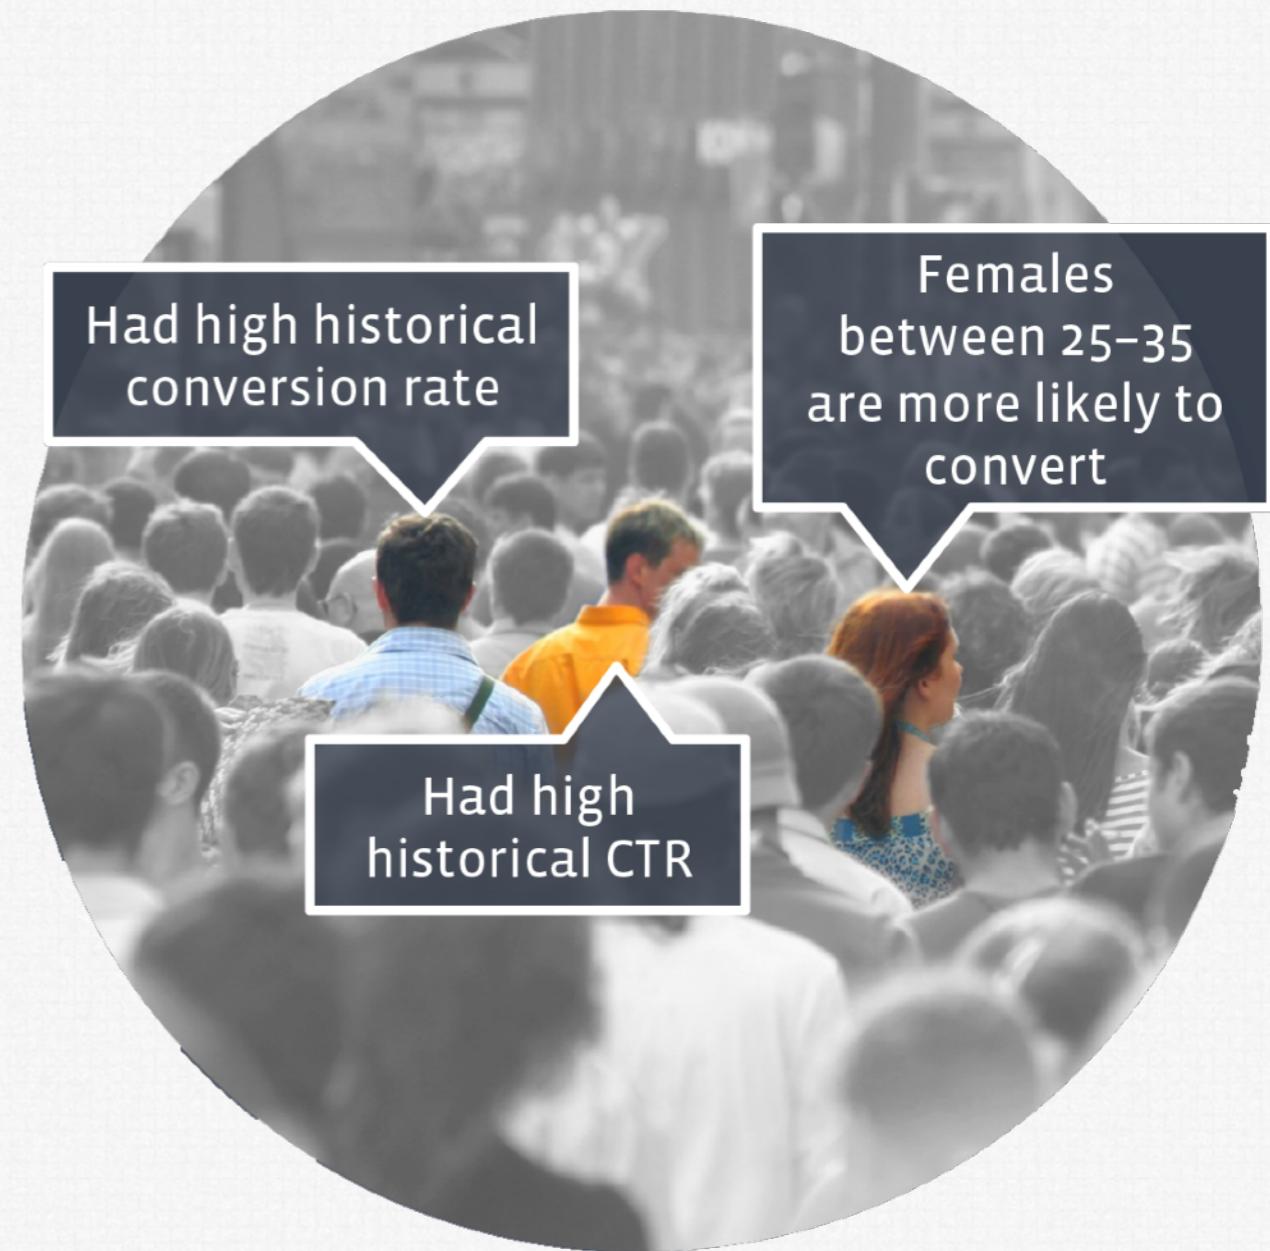

Bidding Guidelines

- ☕ Always track conversions!
- ☕ Optimized CPM nowadays is usually the best choice
- ☕ Use CPC or CPM when you've already nailed down your perfect audience
- ☕ Don't bid too low. You may not reach enough people and, generally, you get what you pay for

oCPM Bidding

- ⌚ oCPM algorithmically predicts who is more likely to convert
- ⌚ Higher CPM but much lower CPA over time (up to 40% savings vs. CPC)
- ⌚ oCPM needs time and training to understand your ideal customers
- ⌚ It's not a replacement for other layers of optimization and testing

oCPM Best Practices

- ⌚ Daily budget should be at least 5x your bid
- ⌚ To train oCPM, conversion goal should generate at least 25 conversions per day with >0.5% conversion rate
- ⌚ If the conversion rate is not high enough, move to a higher funnel conversion pixel
- ⌚ Targeted audience size must be bigger than when using CPC. Around 1 million is optimal!

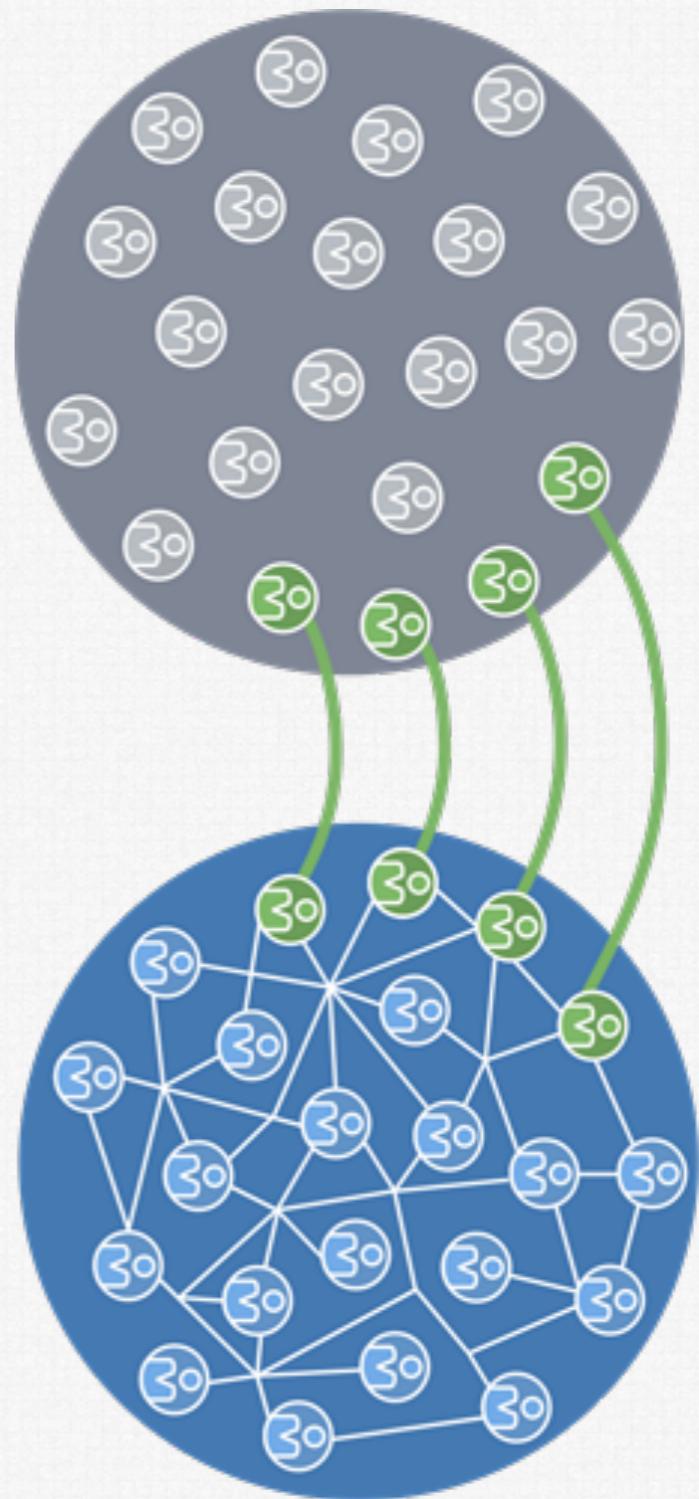

Custom Audiences

Yes, they deserve their own slides...

What Are Custom Audiences?

- ⌚ Laser Focused Ad Targeting
- ⌚ Upload an email list (or UserIDs or Phone #s) and use it as your ads' target
- ⌚ Target people very similar to those in your list with Lookalike Audiences
- ⌚ Retarget users who visited specific pages of your website with Website Custom Audiences
- ⌚ Custom Audiences can often increase ROI 5x
- ⌚ Reach is usually limited. They work well at first but not for long

Some ideas to try

- Convert Newsletter subscribers into customers
- Retarget people who put a product in their cart but never checked out
- Exclude from your targeting, users who are already your customers
- Create a Lookalike audience of users very similar to your customers
- Promote your mobile app to your website's users and vice versa

Key Metrics

Key Metrics to Monitor

- ⌚ Reach: How many users are you reaching? If not enough or none, increase bid
- ⌚ Frequency: How many times, on average, a unique user has seen your ad. When the ad has been seen too much, change the target or ads' design
- ⌚ Cost per Action: This is your main metric to understand if FB Ads are profitable for you. You should focus on lowering this value.
- ⌚ Likes: Likes are just vanity metrics, very few people got rich due to likes (Zuckerberg being one of them), so screw 'Likes'. Look for actions and engagement instead.

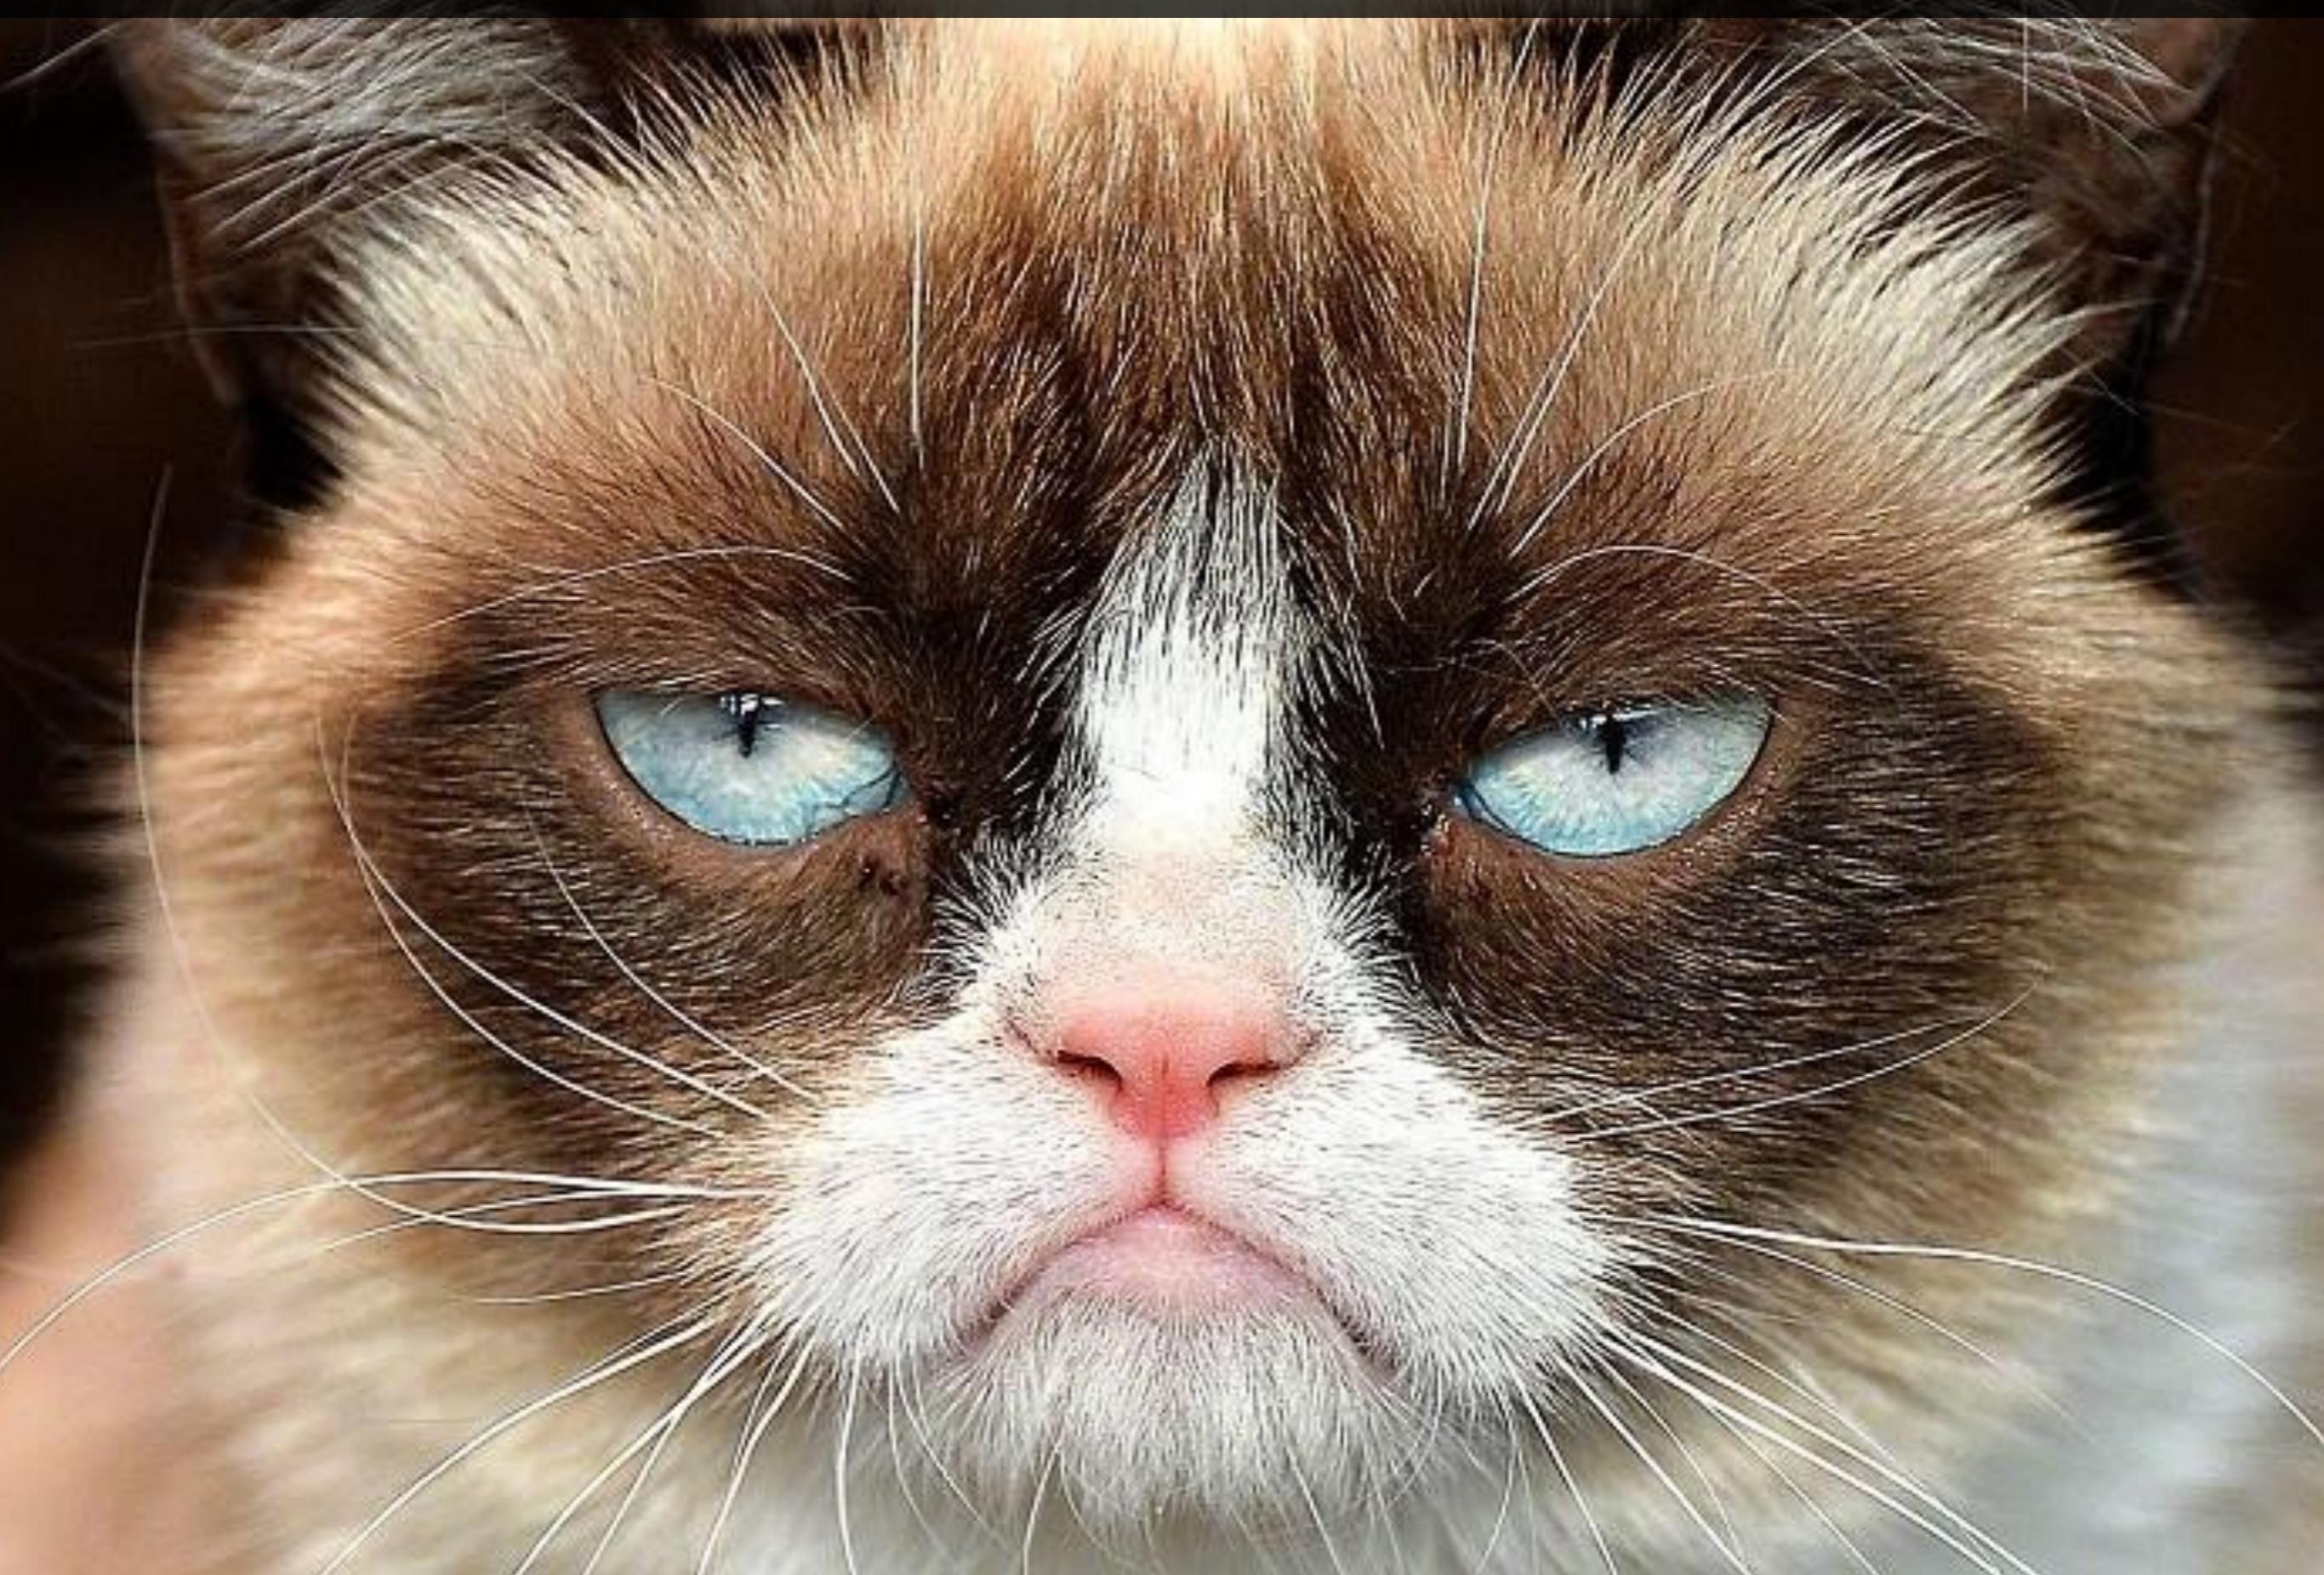

Use customized reports to monitor campaigns

Like others have said, it really depends on what you're selling and who you're targetting.

Our example (country specific mobile app for doctors), spent 100 € on AdWords, end result was literally 0 app installs, 0 sign-ups, 0 everything. Medical keywords are expensive, no chance of sending them directly to the App Store/Play Store (that we saw at least), and no other useful targetting.

Here come Facebook mobile install ads. 40 € spent so far, 500+ app installs, 200+ sign-ups, great retention. We can roughly target medical professionals, take them directly to the app stores, and the clicks are cheap as hell.

I have no doubt that AdWords work much better in other cases, and that FB can be useless, but it's not black and white, you need to know which tool fits the purpose.
